Bryan's Tariff Views.

Recently Mr. Bryan delivered an address at Carnegie Hall, in New York on "Thou Shalt Not Steal." At the conclusion of the speech a number of questions were asked from the audience and Mr. Bryan answered them. He was asked this question:

"Do you stand for immediate and radical tariff revision and do you represent the Democratic party in so standing?" This was his answer:

"I will answer the last part first. I am not prepared to say for a few months yet whether I stand for the Democratic party or not. I am proud to say that I do not stand for some people who call themselves Democrats. Whether the revision that I stand for is considered radical or not is a question of opinion. I stand for immediate revision, I will have it tomorrow if I can't get it today. I would rather have had it yesterday than today. Now as to that word radical, it is a matter of opinion. I used to be radical. Now I am very conservative. What people thought was radical a few years ago is now regarded as not only conservative but necessary.

And many who thought that I was dangerously rapid a few years ago now think that I am inexcusably slow. I believe in the immediate revision of the tariff downwards not upwards, and I would commence by putting upon the free list the articles that come into direct competition with the articles controlled by the Trusts. I would give these men a certain length of time—not too long, —say, a few months, and I would say to them: "If you don't stop conspiring behind this tariff wall we will take the wall away and make you compete with the world." I would then proceed to make material reductions in the necessities of life, and I would go through the tariff and I would pick out the fraudulent paragraphs that were put in by stealth for the purpose of securing advantages that even the farmers of them did not understand, and one of them would be the duty of 150 per cent that was put in for the protection of oil, after it had been put upon the free list. If you read the statute, you will find it says that if oil comes from a country that puts tariff on oil, then we shall put a similar tariff on oil from that country, and it happens that our only competitor in oil is Russia; she puts a tariff on oil, and therefore while on its face we have a free trade in oil, yet really we have not got it at all. I could then proceed to make such other reductions as were possible—and when I say possible, I mean that the laws are made by the representatives of the entire country, and in the making of the law you have to consult the opinions of these people who represent all sections of the country—and I would proceed as rapidly as possible to make such reductions as would be necessary to put our tariff upon a revenue basis, so that our tax laws would be made for the purpose of securing revenue for the Government and not for the purpose of enabling a few people to get rich at the expense of the rest of the people.

(Great laughter and applause throughout).

Deserved Criticism.

The frequent absence of Governor Willson at Frankfort while the Legislature is in session, with matters of vital importance engaging public attention, and the storm clouds of discontent lowering in more than one locality, and anarchy asserting itself is the subject of adverse criticism on the part of the press and people, and it seems to be deserved. He seems too fond of making after dinner speeches.

Has Not Made Good.

Up to the present time, Governor Willson has not met public expectation in meeting and settling certain questions that vitally concern the welfare of the State and the safety of the people. And he started out with such good promises and under favorable conditions. Nearly everybody, without regard to politics, wished him well in his public service, and stood ready to applaud every good act that he might do in the way of putting down lawlessness and making more secure the rights of property.

Will You Listen.

The negroes of Ohio are standing pat as to the Republican nomination for President. Harry C. Smith, a Cleveland, Ohio, editor and former legislator, says "if the Republican National Convention nominates Taft 95 per cent of the colored votes of Ohio will vote the Democratic ticket." He gives the further information that "there are nearly 50,000 negro voters in Ohio, enough to swing the State." Now, what do you think of that?

A Glance Ahead.

If Taft were elected President, he would probably have the appointment of three or four justices of the United States Supreme Court. It is not hard to guess how such appointees would stand on the question of government by injunction. With Federal courts packed by Taft, and a big army and a big navy controlled by Taft, there would be no use for a Congress to make laws, or even for the blessed initiative and referendum; since the courts and the army and the navy, both directed by Roosevelt per Big Bill would really govern the country without regard to laws. This seems to be the true inwardness of the Roosevelt policies, so warmly endorsed by some Democrats whose sight is better than their foresight.

Won't Shoot at the Flag.

For several weeks arrangements for a sham battle on March 10 at the National Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, Tex., have been in progress. The participants are to be the Confederate Guard of Dallas, an organization of soldiers of the South in the war between the States, and an army made up of Texas national guardsmen. Capt. Daniel, of the Confederate Guard, announced that his command would not participate if the militiamen used the American flag.

"Under no circumstances will we fly on the Stars and Stripes, not even in a sham battle," declared Capt. Daniel. "We stopped doing that in 1865."

Rather than have the sham battle abandoned, the managers of the event decided to have the national guardsmen use some other set of colors.

The Confederate Guard will carry the flag of the Southern Confederacy in the mimic conflict.

Money to Burn.

The world has "money to burn" literally, for it is estimated that the civilized nations of the world strike 3,000,000 matches every minute. Nearly one-half of these are struck in America, for the Americans use the enormous total of 70,000,000,000 matches a year. Figuring these at a cost of one cent per hundred the total amount expended on matches in America alone reaches $7,000,000,000. And the world spends annually $15,000,000,000 for this necessity which one generation ago was little used.

Over Children's Quarrel.

At Evelyn, Ky., John Hamilton, James Bowles, Richard Spicer and George Frazier took up some little trivial quarrel of their children, which resulted in the death of the first three named and the mortal wounding of the latter. Pistols were the weapons used.

Prof. H. A. Howell, of Havana, Cuba, Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Cure.

"As long ago as I can remember my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A. Howell, of Howell's American School, Havana, Cuba. "On the night of February 3rd, our baby was taken sick with a severe cold, the next day was worse and the following night his condition was desperate. He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in the arms every moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave, and it afforded prompt relief, and now, three days later, he has fully recovered. Under the circumstances I would not hesitate a moment in saying that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that only, saved the life of our dear little boy." For sale by W. T. Brooks. "You need no other guarantee."

Kentucky Feudist Hung.

Ed. Turner, the Kentucky feudist, was hanged in the county jail at Chattanooga, at 4:50 o'clock Friday afternoon. His neck was broken by the fall and he was pronounced dead in 11 minutes. He went to the scaffold without a tremor.

Turner killed his wife, Lillian Turner, on the side of Lookout Mountain on the afternoon of April 2, 1907. He cut her throat from ear to ear with a pocket knife. At his trial Turner made a confession. Turner is the second white man ever hanged in Hamilton county, Tenn.

Big Back Tax Suit.

A back tax suit against the Burley Society on an alleged omission on a valuation of $100,000,000 on the pooled crops of 1905 and 1906 was filed at Winchester by M. P. Reborn, revenue agent for the State at large.

Bradley Elected Senator.

William O'Connell Bradley was Friday afternoon declared elected United States Senator from Kentucky to succeed James B. McCreary, on the twenty-ninth ballot taken by the General Assembly.

Only with the aid of four Democratic votes was the Republican nominee finally able to grasp the plum which has dangled temptingly before the eyes of the two ex-Governors almost to the end of the session. Refusing the offer of the rest of the Democratic members to vote for any Democrat whom the four might name, they steadfastly declined to change their votes, and gave the honor to the second Republican who has ever represented Kentucky in the "most deliberative body on earth."

The four men who turned the tide to the Republican candidate were Senators H. S. McNutt and Albert Charlton, of Louisville; Representative Chris Mueller, of Louisville, and Representative E. W. Lillard, of Danville. With tears in their eyes, Democrats of all factions plead with them to name any other Democrat whom they would that the rest of the Democrats might support him and prevent the election of a Republican.

"It is too late," they said with one accord. The strongest pleas were directed toward Representative Lillard, of Danville. Lifetime friends plead with him to change his vote to McCreary before the result was officially announced, but he turned a deaf ear to every entreaty, and stolidly maintained his new position as a Republican, when he announced on the first roll call when he said he would throw off the shackles and fetters of the Democratic party which he had served for forty years, and never had expected to leave. He said that under the circumstances he was proud to vote for W. O. Bradley.

At the height of the excitement, after the roll call had been completed, but not announced, and when it was seen that Bradley had exactly enough to elect, Governor Beckham came upon the floor of the House and released his friends from the primary nomination pledge.

Caucus Chairman Combs made public announcement that the name of Beckham was withdrawn, Senator Newman promised a Democratic caucus to be held that night, at which the name of Governor Beckham would not be presented. When all these overtures had been spurned by the men who had participated in the Democratic primary, and had been elected on the Democratic ticket, one of them, at least under the promise that he would vote for Beckham, Representative Millikin asked the bolters to name a Democrat that all of the members might rally to his support and save the party from defeat, but the same old cry: "Too late; too late," was the only response.

The first intimation, beyond desultory rumors, the Democrats had that there would be something "doing" Friday was when, after Senator McNutt had voted for J. Wheeler Campbell for Senator, he changed his vote to W. O. Bradley. He was greeted with the wildest cheers from the Republicans. Senator Charlton, who also voted for Campbell, immediately changed his vote, and then the Democrats began to comprehend what they were up against. Senator Wheeler Campbell voted for Blackburn and did not change to Bradley as many believed he would when the switching of the bolters began. After Bradley's election had been announced he joined in the applause, clapping his hands beneath the desk where he was sitting.

Governor Beckham was in the cloak room of the Senate when the news was conveyed to him that his fondest hopes and ambitions had been dashed to pieces. He was surrounded by close friends, and became visibly affected.

He authorized the withdrawal of his name in an effort to stem the tide and prevent Bradley's election. Beckham's supporters rushed from the presence of their fallen chief to the joint session chamber and made ringing speeches in order to retrieve the day, but without avail. The die was cast.

The Proper Idea.

If Kentucky would go after the Tobacco Trust like Texas went after the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, the State would soon be rid of the night riders. The Texas Court assessed the above concern $1,600,000 and added an ouster from the State of the company for breaking the anti-trust laws. Now this is the way to deal with unlawful combinations. Along this line Hon. Joel B. Fort, of Tennessee, in commenting on the weakness of Governor Wilson's message on the tobacco situation says: "We want peace but not at the price of slavery. We want law and order, but not in the low ranks of poverty and servitude. While we don't uphold night riding and we deplore it as much as any one in the State and say that it ought to be stopped immediately, if it is caused from the merciless tactics of the tobacco trust in grinding down to the earth the growers of tobacco, then go after the foundation of the troubles and stop the trust's unlawful operations."

When does a chair dislike you? When it can't bear you.

More Retrement.

Beginning tomorrow, the law regulating the working hours of railroad employees will go into effect, and the officials are planning some method to meet the new requirements.

According to the law the men will not be allowed to work over sixteen hours a day, and must have a rest period of ten hours before they can be put to work again. This will require a few extra crews to take out the trains when the regular crew has completed its work.

The new ruling will probably work a hardship on the men when they are unexpectedly detained, as they will be compelled to remain where they complete their sixteen hours labor until they have rested the required time.

Threatening Letters.

Rank Foolishness.

"When attacked by a cough or a cold, or when your throat is sore, it is rank foolishness to take any other medicine than Dr. King's New Discovery," says C. O. Eldridge, of Empire, Ga. "I have used New Discovery seven years and I know it is the best remedy for each for coughs and colds, croup, and all throat and lung troubles. Most children are subject to croup, but New Discovery quickly cures every attack."

"Now the world over as the King of throat and lung remedies. Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Not At All.

"Doesn't seem a little inconsistent for us to send Missionaries over to China to teach them how to get to Heaven and then not let them come to this country?" asks Gerald Sullivan. The Mayville Ledger answers: "Not at all, Sully; America isn't Heaven, by a long shot."

A Higher Health Level.

"I have reached a higher health level since I began using Dr. King's New Life Pills," writes Jacob Springer of West Franklin, Maine. "They keep my stomach, liver and bowels working just right."

If these pills disappoint you on trial, money will be refunded at Oberdorfer's drug store. 25c.

Winter's End Prices on Fine Furniture.

We have only one reason for making our present low prices on our splendid assortment of Home Furnishings and that is that it is against the policy of the house to carry unsold goods beyond a certain period.

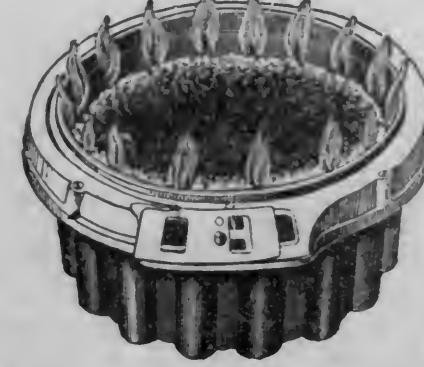

There are many splendid things in our immense stock that now must move. Here is your opportunity. The terms are as liberal as the prices are low.

Paris Day.

"Paris Day" at the Tuberculosis Exhibition in Lexington Y. M. C. A. building was arranged Saturday by Mrs. Wm. Myall by long distance telephone. Mrs. Myall planned with the exhibition managers to have "Paris Day" next Thursday which is also W. C. T. U. Day. The Paris physicians will attend the exhibition on Wednesday, "State Board of Health Day."

Big Tobacco Deal.

It is reported from Winchester that the deal for the purchase of the Burley Society's 1906 and 1907 crops by the American Tobacco Company seems likely to go through. It means a sale of 160,000 hogsheads worth $24,000,000.

No one knows what is in him until he gets down to hard work and mines the claim.

Equity Men Threatened.

Several members of the Society of Equity in Montgomery county have received threatening letters regarding the raising of tobacco. The letters bear the postmark of M. Sterling office. J. U. Bigstaff, President of the Traders' Bank, a large land owner, not one of them. It read:

"This is to notify you if there is any beds or any tobacco destroyed in Montgomery or Bath counties this 1908 you had better look out for your own property. Tenants."

Harve Prewitt, Lucien Bridgforth and other tobacco and cattle raisers got this notice:

"If we cannot raise tobacco you cannot raise any cattle."

The Equity people turned the letters over to the postal authorities, and it is said the matter will be probed to the bottom. This is the first instance where Equity members have been threatened.

Sheep and Wool.

A sheep grower in the American Stockman takes this view of the future viz.: With the coming of spring the interrupted activities that are now beginning resumed will be under full sway and then sheep, lambs and wool will be worth as much, if not more, than before the panic. Sheep and lambs were the last in live stock to break in value and the first to recover. Wool was even more strongly entrenched, holding remarkably firm. Our great increase in population has been followed by an increased production of cattle, hogs, grain and cotton—but not of sheep. On the contrary, our sheep have decreased many millions. We must import 40 per cent. of the wool and woolen goods that our needs demand and yet our consumptive demand for the healthful and pleasing mutton chop and roast increases wonderfully. While the slaughterers can make a good high profit, they will pay big prices, big prices tempt the grower to sell, and even to part with their lambs. Conditions as they are are bound to continue.

Burglars Break Big Window Glass.

Burglars tried to enter the clothing house of Price & Co., Sunday night, by throwing a brick through one of his big plate glass windows. They secured a coat and vest and two pair of trousers. The noise made by the crash of the glass no doubt frightened the thieves away before they could take anything else.

Price & Co. are carrying such an excellent stock of clothing that the people just must have them, even if a plate glass window has to be broken to get them.

Arrested for Forgery.

Ogden Fields, a colored woman, was arrested yesterday by Officer Ben Bishop charged with forging the name of Mrs. W. H. Fisher to a check for $11 on the Citizens Bank. The woman presented the check at Twin Bros. store Saturday night in payment for a suit, the cost of which was $3.50 and received $1.50 in change. The check was presented at the bank yesterday morning and Cashier Wm. Myall probed it a forgery at once. Officer Bishop was put on the case and in a short time arrested the negro in Mrs. Fisher's kitchen. She was placed in jail to await examining trial, which will probably be to-day.

Sale of Ogden Property.

Auctioneer A. T. Forsyth, on Saturday, for Master Commissioner Russell Mann, sold the property of the Ogden heirs, on Main, between Fifth and Sixth street. It was first sold separately and then as a whole. The residence, 50 feet front, was knocked down to Dr. J. T. Vansant at $3,200, and the business house, fronting 16 1/2 feet to Dr. William Kenney at $2,575. The property was then put up as a whole and purchased by Mr. John T. Hinton at $6,425.

Mr. Harry Ogden, one of the heirs, was a contending bidder from the very first. The price paid is nearly $100 per foot, which shows Paris real estate is not declining in price, as this property we might say is unimproved.

Not Constitutional.

A press dispatch from Washington says: "A member of the House Committee on the Judiciary said today he did not believe legislation forbidding the granting of Federal liquor license in prohibition counties was constitutional. This is also the view of a member of the House, who is one of the ablest lawyers in the body. Five bills of this kind have been introduced."

"Be Thorough."

Such was the advice given by Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, V. C., to the boys of Felsted school. In games play your best, not for your own hand, but for your own side."—Chums.

Heathen Deities for Sale.

There is an old curiosity shop in London which makes a specialty of heathen deities. All kinds of images, small and large, handsome, hideous and grotesque are on view. You can choose an antique Aztec god from Mexico, carved in heavy stone and hideous enough to scare a burglar; you can purchase a marble deity from Mandalay, a wooden atrocious from the Ju-Ju land of West Africa, or a gilt joss from a Chinese temple.

The Smart Set's Omission.

Got 'Em Just the Same.

The "buddy" is the latest political slang in England. He is described as one who seldom thinks nationally or imperially, but almost always provincially, if not parochially. Something resembling this has been seen over here. But the name applied is shorter, and begins with the first letter in the alphabet.

A Foolish Superstition.

It is said and believed that all the blue-jays disappear every Friday, and not one can be seen until the next day, and this disappearance is accounted for by the statement that the birds are under a compact with Satan and that they devote Friday to delivering him a supply of sand for heating purposes, sand being one of the ingredients that keeps his immeasurable cauldron at the point of torture. But why should the blue-jay be selected as sand-beater to Satan, when there are so many birds of stronger and fleet wing? There are many superstitions that have a reasoning basis, but this particular one has nothing whatever to go on. The origin of it lies in the fact that the blue-jay is a most particular home-builder; he knows how to build his house, and he takes a great pride in it. He doesn't hang his nest to a limb, nor glue it to a tree. Instead, he selects a substantial fork or croton of a limb, lays down a few twigs, of goodly size and strength, and on these he superimposes a strong foundation of clay, with layers of papers between, and when his nest is finished, it is as substantial in proportion as one of our modern steel structures.

Thus fitted and finished, it is admirably adapted to the rearing of a strong and healthy brood, and the blue-jay goes about this business with his earnest energy that characterizes all his movements. He raises his young and leads them about from tree to tree and from bush to bush until they have tried and found their wings, and then his responsibilities being over, he proceeds with his career of gaiety, a veritable practitioner of rough fun and stage humor.—Joel Chandler Harris in Uncle Remus's Magazine for March.

Good Salaries For Teachers.

Chicago teachers in elementary schools are hereafter to get $100 a month instead of $25. The time is coming, observes the Courier-Journal, when school teachers all over the country will earn as much as unskilled laborers.

Make It Yourself.

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice by an eminent authority, who writes of readers of a large Eastern daily paper, will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torturous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously ill but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering child-birth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which are the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by post card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Felt's cure constitution. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

It was urged by Senator McCreary that Congress should pass a currency bill containing these features:

Requiring national banks to keep two-thirds of their reserves in their own vaults; providing for the distribution of emergency circulation among the States in proportion to their population; requiring national banks to pay 2 per cent. interest on government deposits, and setting aside their interest as a fund for the guaranty of deposits.

It was not in favor at this time of revising the entire monetary system of the United States. He was not in favor of the Fowler bill, which he regarded as too great a revision of the monetary system.

"I expedient resorted to by the Secretary of the Treasury," he said, "by institutions and individuals, to increase the volume of currency in the panic of 1907 suggests legislation to authorize additional notes to be used in emergencies. I believe that the authorized issue should be United States notes instead of national bank notes."

Mr. McCreary said he was in favor of a bond-secured currency with an interest charge sufficiently high to compel the retirement of such issue after the emergency had passed. He believed that the Secretary of the Treasury should deposit this emergency currency in government depositories and in State and savings banks when the business conditions require it, the money to be apportioned among the several States in accordance with their population.

The whole amount he proposed, $500,000,000, might be so deposited, or any part of it. He declared that if it should be said this puts the government in the banking business the reply was that the government is now in that business.

The Fowler bill was adopted in committee in practically the form in which it was introduced, and, as a result of weeks of public hearing and consideration in executive session, several of the thirty-nine sections of the bill were amended by committee vote, but no changes of substantial character were made.

The Democratic members of the committee will, of course, submit a minority report, which may recommend the passage of the bill introduced some weeks ago by John Sharp Williams, the minority leader.

The Fowler bill provides for the retirement of all outstanding bond-secured currency and the issuance in substitution of a currency based on the assets of the national banks—that is, a gold-secured currency. One of its chief features is a provision for a federal guaranty of national bank deposits.

Unequaled as a Cure for Croup, besides being an excellent remedy for colds and throat troubles, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is unequalled as a cure for croup," says Harry Wilson, of Waynetown, Ind. When given as soon as the croupy croup appears, this remedy will prevent the attack. It is used successfully in many thousands of homes. For sale by W. T

SIMPLE WASH CURES ECZEMA.

Itching, Burning Skin Disease Routed Without Use of Injurious Drugs.

Great inventors often have been praised for surrendering the secrets of their discoveries. Practically the same thing happened in the medical world in the case of Dr. Decatur D.
Dennis, the eminent skin specialist of Chicago.

Dr. Dennis, in his own private practice, discovered that pure vegetable oil of wintergreen, properly mixed with other simple remedies was practically a sure specific for Eczema, psoriasis, barber's itch, salt rheum, and other itching skin diseases. But the oil of wintergreen alone was found ineffective. It required other mild irgredients such as glycerine and thyme compounded with the wintergreen, to produce the real eczema cure.

This compounded D. D. Prescription positively takes away the itch at once—the instant it is applied to the skin. This vegetable liquid does away with deleterious drugs so long used in an attempt to doctor the blood, whereas modern science has determined that eczema is first and all the time a skin disease.

If you want to know more about the merits of D. D. Prescription, all at our store. We vouch for this remedy.

The Minister's Roast.

A minister, in giving up his charge, once said: "Brethren, I have decided to leave this field of labor. There are many reasons for this. In the first place, you do not love me, for you have not paid me a cent of last year's salary, you do not love each other, for there has not been a wedding in this parish for many months; God does not love you, for there has not been a funeral since I came here; you do not love God, for you are doing nothing to promote his kingdom here on earth.
I have decided to take the position of chaplain at the city jail and have decided to preach my sermon from the text: 'I go to prepare a place for you, the choir will now please sing:
'Meet Me There.'

Bradley's Wit.

In his speech at the banquet of the State Development Convention last November; Senator-elect W. O. Bradley made a great hit in his appeal for law and order in Kentucky, condemning the night-riders. He said that Kentucky could never reach the position to which she was entitled until lawlessness had been stopped and until perfect law and order prevailed in every county in the Commonwealth. In connection with the shortcomings of Kentucky and in concluding his address, he said: "But with all Kentucky's faults I love her still, and wish all her stills I love her faults."

A Simple Question.

If Adam had lived until now, and had saved ten dollars every day, his total savings (without interest) would be less than twenty-five millions, and yet one man has, by controlling the price of oil, amassed a fortune estimated at twenty times that amount.
Rockefeller's annual income is probably equal to the average annual salary paid to one hundred thousand school teachers. Does he give to society a service equal to the service rendered by the teachers? If not, either he is over-paid, or the teachers are under-paid.

Offer Made for Old State House.

The Fiscal Court of Franklin county Saturday appointed a committee to go before the joint legislative committee on State Capitol and Grounds and make a proposition offering the State $50,000 for the old State Capitol and grounds.

It is also agreed by the county that in the event the offer is accepted the historic pile known as the Statehouse will be preserved. It is the intention of the Fiscal Court, in event the property is acquired, to convert the present executive building into a court house.

A Grim Warning Sent Forth By Hawkins.

W. B. Hawkins, who was the organizer of the original Fayette County Burley Tobacco Association, and was the organizer of the original Fayette County Burley Tobacco Association, and was the first President of the organization which has made war on the American Tobacco Company, and who is one of the most widely and best known of the farmers and growers in Central Kentucky, Sunday night issued the following warning to those growers who intend planting a crop of tobacco:

"When your plant bed is scraped or your barn burned send to Governor Wilson and he will let you have a battalion of soldiers and a Gatling gun to protect your property, and maybe save you from a whipping. I say this advisedly, for there is no use to apply for the Gatling gun until after the mischief is done. There is an old saying, 'do not care to buy a law suit.' Do you care to buy trouble in this way by flying in the face of public opinion and also in the face of determined men, who believe you are their worst enemy and who will stop at nothing to right their supposed wrongs? Would it not be better to stop and think before attempting to raise a crop in 1908? A little discretion at the proper time is good for the best of us, as well as for the little bull that tried to butt the train off the track. The majority has said, 'No Crop in 1908.' What will you do; sow your beds and begin the year of torment? For it will be 365 days of hell for you; sleepless nights and alarm at every noise. What are the riders doing now? Are they only scraping the plant beds? Are they after my barn? Or, oh horrors! Are they after my back with their damnable switches?

"Do not hug to yourself a delusion and say 'It won't come to me.' Hasn't it come to the highest? When the riders start are you so good that you will escape? The writer knows the long and thorny road the growers have traveled for about five years.

He knows the cruelty of the Tobacco Trust. He knows how unscrupulously they will work like moles under the ground to defeat the farmer in this great game. He knows how it calls to its assistance the farmers who in their greed will act as allies to the trust in its endeavor to again put down to starvation prices—6 1/2 cents.

"Is it any wonder that the outraged growers resort to violence when each day hardship is rehashed and his selfish neighbor (neighbor in name only) is on 'Easy street,' having sold at the highest price obtainable by the sacrifice and self-denial of the Equity members? I do not appeal to those selfish men to help us. You may as well put corn before hogs and ask those of them who were filled at breakfast, 'Wait till those hungry ones get some.' I only have put it to you as it is—'Free from the wrath to come.' For, if you plant tobacco you are sowing the whirlwind.

"Mutterings and mumblings are heard on all sides. The outraged farmers will not stand persecution always and I say to you that in my opinion trouble will come to you if a crop is planted in 1908.

"W. B. HAWKINS."

Successful Young Trainer.

Joe Ewart, son of Mr. Samuel Ewart, of this city, has just returned from Georgia, where he has been training a stable of trotting horses for Morgan & Thomas, at Hawkinsville, Ga. He had a very successful season.

Out of twenty-two starts he landed under the wire first in sixteen races, and was never farther back than third, thus being inside the money in every start. This is quite a record for Mr.

Ewart and places him in the front rank with trotting horse trainers and drivers in races. He will shortly return to Georgia to resume training for the same firm.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

L. B. Hood sold Saturday to Hibler Bros. twenty 120 pound shoats at 4 cents per pound.

Prospects are excellent for a big fruit crop, as the weather has been tempered, holding back the fruit buds.

Brent & Burke will no doubt be the largest growers of hemp in Bourbon county this year. They will put in over 400 acres.

The mule sale by T. F. Dunlap & Son, near Midway, 73 head sold at an average of $168. The mules were two-year-olds and in fine condition.

Lambs are making their appearance in large numbers. Some lambs have been sold for future delivery at 5 cents, one farmer being offered 6 cents, for which he refused.

Albert Snapp, of this county, sold his crop of tobacco, raised on nine acres, to Dan Peed, at 13 cents. It averaged over 2,000 pounds to the acre and brought something over $2,500.

Wheat is looking well and is in a better position for a larger yield than a year ago. Indications are that the crop will stool out resulting in more wheat and less straw, which was the reverse last year.

The sale of Durocs by McNeil Bros., at Bowen, Ill., averaged a little over $163 for 58 head. One feature of this sale worthy of note was the fact that but four out of the 58 head sold for less than $100.

Pooled tobacco is coming in in large quantities, more than 100,000 pounds having been received last week at the warehouse of Kenney Nichols, on South Main street, one of the leaders of the Bourbon Warehouse Company.

Receipts on the Chicago market for three days last week, compared with the same period week before last, in round numbers, decreased 4,300 cattle, increased 26,600 hogs and 6,400 sheep. Compared with same period last year cattle increased 1,400, hogs 16,500 and sheep 2,000.

At the public sales throughout the county cows seem to be in demand. The pressure of the starting of the new creamery in this city, which will raise steam today for the first time, is causing this demand. The farmers are realizing that they will now have a good market for their dairy products.

E. H. Ritchie, who resides on his farm, on Cynthiana and Millersburg turnpike, three miles from Millersburg, raised 15,830 pounds of tobacco on 18 acres, which he sold at 11 cents; he also raised on the portion of the same land 135 barrels of corn, some pop corn, tomatoes and roasting ears. The balance of his farm is in grass.

The sale of hemp seed is coming with a rush in anticipation of the increased demand, due to the cutting out of the tobacco crop and the largely increased acreage that will be sold as a result. The price of choice seed has advanced from 50 cents to $1 per bushel during the last week, with sales aggregating nearly two thousand bushels.

At the public sale of John J. Peed, near Millersburg, A. T. Forsyth, auctioneer, reports good attendance with spirited bidding, resulting in good prices. One unregistered Jersey cow brought the handsome figure of $110. horses sold at from $40 to $175; mules $225 to $300 per pair; 4 yearling mules $94 per head, cows from $40 to $60; heifers $16 to $19; calves $12 to 19; sheets, $4; corn, $3 to $3.80 per barrel; timothy hay $8.80 per ton; chickens 35 to 50 cents each, and turkeys 2 per head. Farm implements brought good prices.

The women have decided to save Niagara Falls, presumably so they may continue to go there on their honeymoons.

The "No Crop" Rally.

The "no crop" meeting held in the Auditorium at Lexington Saturday afternoon was attended by upward of 1,000 tobacco growers and others interested in the struggle of the Society of Equity against the American Tobacco Company. The day was wet and disagreeable, otherwise there would have been much larger gathering. The speakers were Joel B. Fort, of Clarksville, Tenn., and Congressman A. O. Stanley, of the Second Congressional District of Kentucky.

Among the ladies in attendance was Miss Alice Lloyd, of Mason county, who recently wrote the open letter to Governor Willson, signed "Mason County Farmer."

After the speaking a form of contract or pledge to raise no crop of tobacco this year was circulated, and received many signatures. At the meeting it was related that the Equity in Scott county have hit upon a plan to secure the destruction of tobacco beds and prevent the growing of a crop by their neighbors without resorting to violence. It is proposed to resort to condemnation proceedings, and the subject explained it this way:

"We will say nothing to any man planting a bed until the plants are about ready to set out, and then a committee from the Equity Society, composed of his neighbors, will call upon him. He will be invited to show the committee his tobacco beds, and after the committee has seen them they will announce to the surprised grower that they came to destroy his plants. The committee will give him to understand that they mean business and will put a hot iron in his hands and compel him to destroy his own tobacco plants, while they stand by and watch the work of destruction."

After the plants are destroyed in this manner the committee will offer to pay the grower for his loss, but if he declines to accept the offer of cash for his devastated plant beds he will be told to seek redress for damages in the court. If he does this the jury before which his case is tried will be an Equity jury, or composed largely of Equity growers, and he will get only an equitable and just compensation. Our point will be gained and no tobacco crop will be raised by that grower."

Powers Wants to Be a Congressman.

Declaring that he will be a free man in a few months, Caleb Powers has sent a letter to his friends in the Eleventh District announcing that he will seek the nomination for Congress there. He says that Governor Willson will see the light before many weeks have passed, and that he is certain to be released when the petition is received by the Governor and Willson sees its scope.

Powers adds that he wants the nomination settled between Congressman Edwards and himself in a convention, and not in a primary. He says that he would have to borrow money for a primary entrance fee.

Republicans to Honor a Traitor.

A plan has been started by the Republican members of the General Assembly asking Governor Willson to make Representative Lillard, who voted for Bradley, the Adjutant General of the State.

This is true Republicanism, wanting to honor a man that is a traitor to his party and constituents. The Republicans are also going to honor Powers by sending him to Congress for successfully managing the assassination of Governor Goebel.

He who does his level best seldom finds it necessary to do other people.

The dress that makes people exclaim, "What a pretty gown!" should be discarded. Wear the dress that causes them to say, "What a pretty woman!"
